An Old Grand Banks Plaherman's Very Tough Yorn.

"Yo see, I shipped for a cruise on the codder Laughin' Dolly, for no pay and a share of the proceeds. We sailed from Gleucester and had tolable leek; then gettin' sout o' bait, we put intew Hard Bay-that's on the coast of Newfoundland-and I reckon we jest get in in time, for it let on tew blow from the east'ard and banged and hammerefor a like o' three days. At the end that time we got the water butt into the dory, and me and my mate, Lot Tom Sigstree, pulled in for a little cove to lu'ard, where it was smooth water and good landin'. In we went a hoopin when jest as we was goin' through the gut o' the cove, it kind o' shoaled likand we come to with a rush, and we wa broadside onter the worst lookin' creeta:

yer ever see or heard on. "First I thought it was a spider: its arms was a-flyin' in the air over us, and some a-hangin' on tew the boat, and the creetur seemed actual a-tryin' to come aboard. Ye see, it had grounded on the shoal and we'd plurwed right intew it, and I'm a master hand at sight seein', but I was took all aback, and the first I knew one of its arms was around the our Whish I came another, takin' Long Tom around the boot, and yankin' him clear off his feet. He whipped acut his knife, and cut it off, and it fell in the boat, a-twistin' jest like a sunke, Another come a-flyin' along, and tock me in the neck, cuttin' jest like a knife, and all this time we wur a-whackin' and jammin' at the creetur to keep him aout o the boat. But its legs was kivered wity suckers, and it kind o' came on. Right between the legs we see a pair o' bil's workin' up and daown just like these are, while the creetur was a pumpin' ink and water from a sort o' spout jest like a steam engine, so't we was black from head to foot and the water all areound. I got my oar up like a berpoon, and was jest goin to jam it in the bead, when a wave tool the dory, gave her a lift, and over she went, chackin' me right on tew the cree-tur, and I'll swan tew life I was never so near meetin' Davy Jones afore nor sence. I tried to jump clear, but the brat knocked me daown, and the first I knew I felt a grip on my boot, and I see the animal had me by the leg; but clean through the leather, leg and all, and for a minute I was all wound up, and I reckon if it warn't for Tom I'd been cleaned aout sure. The water wasn' over two feet, and he jumped clear o' the creetur, and then shovin' the boat clear he jammed the squid in the head with an oar four or five times, and hauled me sout, and yaou can bet yer port mone; I was a physical wrack as far as looks goes—all scratched up.

"Wall, we righted the bost, and then I was bound tow see the creetur; so we dragged it in shore and spread her aont, long d'ye reckon it was Forty-eight feet tow an inch, and the worst lookin' thing I ever clapped my eyea on. The body was jest like a big bag, abaout tweive foot long, and soft like a jelly. The fail looked like the fluke of an azehor, but the head was what took me. The eyes on it were black and as big as saucers, and from around 'em branched off ten legs kiv ered on one side with suckers, with edges of 'em jist like razors and saws and every time one struck ye a kind o air-pump piston arrangement sucked the air aout and pressed the sucker righintew ye. Two of the arms was the longest-I reckoned abaout thirty footand it was them the creetur was hanging by when we ran a-foul o' bim-kind o swingin' by 'em like hawsers. tew make a long story short, I was laid up for a couple o' weeks with the bite on my leg, and I reckon I can show some of the scratchin' yet. We cut the animal up for bait, and it filled about ter good cod tubs, and must have weighed 1,800 pounds."

A Chicago Lawyer's Love Story.

Prof. Swing, in an address at the Ac ton (Ind.) Assemblage, approved of judicious novel-reading, and told this story: "I heard of a Chicago lawyer once whose wife read two novels to him when he was sick, and he said to her 'I have been entirely too much wrappe up in law, and have forgotten ala everything else. When I get well chall lay aside my statutes and write And so he did. The first chap ter told about a nice young man and pretty young woman. The second tolhow they met and fell in love, third, a very pretty chapter, told how they took a walk together in the even ing, and how they got outside the tow because the sun went down, and the couldn't see the corporation line. I was a very remarke story, but spoiled it in the next chapter, for after the lovers were appropriately scated in-der the shade of a spreading oak, the young man said: 'Adelaide, I can no longer conceal my feelings. I love you madly, distractedly, wildly. I canno live without you. Your image is in my heart by night and by day, and withou you my life is incomplete. Now, that was all very pretty, but—would you be lieve it?—the lawyer commenced the maiden's answer to that burning declar ation with; 'The other party responde substantially as follows, and that too away all the romance."

The Girl Whom Nobody Likes. Have you ever met the sarcastic your woman? No! Well I have, and I'm sorry for it. She is a pest. The giddy girl, the gushing girl and the lackadaisical miss are not ornaments whose loss would cause the world grief, but they can be tolerated. The sarcastic maider should be suppressed by law. Suffered ! Yes, I have, and will not again. The school is growing. Nobody likes the sarcastic girl; everybody fears, and many hate her. Her stock in trade may have been originally satire, but has long ago degenerated into impudence, and with the degeneration has slipped her ability to see the difference between what was and what is, between satire and impudence. She has been fostered in the family circle, and generally stays there. She began with mild criticisms on her friends, and ended by lampooning them. Now she has none, and caricatures her acquaintances. Her parents applauded her early efforts, and she relablates by staying or this hand. applauded her early efforts, and she re-taliates by staying on their hands. The family think her brilliant, young men avoid her, and what the world knows as a sour old maid is thus created.

Hirt

FLI

A CRUEL RELATIVE. -The police of Toulouse, France, made a descent upou the house of a grocer named Rouzoul, and rescued from a cellar a man and his son in the last stage of starvation. They were the brother-in-law and nephew of Rouzoul, who had kept them in durance while he squandered their fortune of $20,000. They were found to be entirely bereft of

AND NOW DOES the lovely small boy grow almost green with rage when he sees thousands of white high hats being worn and no spow balls to hit them

STEALING CHICKENS.

TOO MANY FEATHERS SCATTERED ABOUT THE CONGRESSMAN'S TENT. Way They Have of Playing a Joke in the tirent West.

(From the Milwauken Sun.) Some veteran soldiers of the late war sieled trick they played on one of the nicest men that ever lived, and its in-lignation knows no bounds. At the reat all about that, and only looked upon on as "Til, Woodward," After he had etired a crowd of these wicked sortiers recured a lot of feethers and heads of pring chickers, and scattered them all count Wosdward's tent, and at daylight ie guard woke Woodward up and told m that there was a farmer wanted to or him. Woo baard thought maybe the rmer was some member of his old regient, and he got up, and white he stood washing himself in a tin basin, lits suspenders hanging down his hips, a farmer mek his head in the tent and asked Woodward if he wanted to pay for these ers he stole or have a law suit. Wood-ru seed he had rather have a law suit, it was all the same to the farmer. "All right, you can have it " said the ormer, as he looked mad. "By gum, y man who steals my chickens will get llered the balance of his natural life, al he leeded at Woodward as though thought he would steal anything that card didn't know what hens the farmer me out, but being a lawyer, a law suit was right into his hand, so he sent he

as lying around, What is this about juvenile poultry, hed Woodward, and he wiped his face a grany sack, and came out in front his tent in his bare feet, the water ripping from his hair, and his whole apnearing that of a man who has been easkened from much needed sleep, and tho is thoroughly mad, "I am no hicken thief, I am the successor in Con-cress of the great and good Judge Humirrey, a man, sir—a man,"
"Nover mind Congress, look o' them, d the farmer, pointing to the feathers nd heads and feet on the ground, and a ew feathers on Woodward's pants that he is ye had sneeked in the tent and put

Woodward is near-aighted, and he ould not see anything on the ground, so he put on his glacers and stooped over and sure enough there were testher-denty. By that time the boys had suren ded the farmer and told him Woodand was one of the burdest nuts in the State, and that he was a terror where-ever he was known, and that the best hing the farmer could do was to go some and a move the rest of his chickhe encampment was over. They told rim to watch out when he was talking to Woodward or he would pull a revolver and blow him through. Woodwardsaw brough the joke at once. He realized hat the boys had been reveling in chickens, and were quietly giving him the redit for it, so he called the farmer to aim and asked how much he would take settle. He said he was a young man of irreproschable character so far, and is chicken business was the first in tance in which he had fallen from grace, te begged the farmer to be merciful, and make the charges light, and for gaven's sake lock the secret up in his sesom and never let the story get to La rosse, or he would be ruined. He said e had just been elected to Congress on e reform issue, and it would be hard go in for reform in Congress with the enthers of those stolen chickens hang ing to his garments. He spoke feelingly of the effect this affair would have or his whole future life, and so worked on the farmer's feelings that the granger said he would settle for a couple of dollars, and take away the feathers. After the farmer had got his money, and had cleared up the feathers, and Woodward had gone into his tent to put on his boots, and the reveille had been sounded and the boys had got up all around, General Bragg and Colonel Watrous, and Gov erno: Rusk came along and opened the flap of Woodward's tent and peeked in,

and Bragg said : there are evidences of prest alaughter about your tent." Woodward was trigging away at one d as boots, which did not seem to go on as easy as usual, and he said, "You felows think you are smart, don't you? and then he turned his boot bottom side up and emptied a couple of yellowchick ns' feet out, and finally got the boot on, and asked the boys in to drink out of a tin canteen. The farmer will go down to his grave thinking that the hard citisen who stele his chickens has got r great big heart in him, and he will alsays remember the pleading look and trembling voice of the man who paid im two dollars.

Life at West Point.

A part of the drill of the graduating Calets at West Point is thus described:

The cadets having performed several evolutions to the satisfaction of Captain Godfrey and the admiration of those in the galleries, two hurdles were placed on the tan-bark and midway between them a wooden frame-work, from which was depended an iron ring. At several points there were posts, representing men. At the word of command the cadets came charging down on the hurdles one at a time, their horses going at a full gallop. As each cadet reached the first post he fired his revolver at it, and, as his horse leaped the hurdle, he drew his sabre and caught the suspended ring deftly on the point of his sword. Then he leaped his horse over the next hurdle, slashing off the leather head of the vooden man as he did so, and swept on o the smaller post in a like manner, After some time the saddles were renoved and a little bare back riding was adulged in. The cadets set their horses in motion and went gyrating in the ring around the hall. Just before reaching a hurdle the cadet would dismount and, linging to his horse's mane, would leap the hurdle with him, springing to his back again immediately the obstruction was assed. Then the burdles were removed and the cadets, still riding around the hall at full speed, began to jump on and off of their horses without checking in the least the furious pace at which they were going. Then the order to "ride at will" will" was given and the cadets went around the hall standing up, lying down, sneeling or hanging by one fort on the backs of their horses.

"What station did you say this was? inquired a passenger of a gruff brake-man. "Pig-sty," growled the polite employee, who was mad because his first answer was not distinct enough to be un-derstood. "Ah," smiled the traveler, "then you must be perfectly at home The brakeman slammed the door from the outside and then bit off a piece of the iron railing.

A DETECTIVE'S SERMON.

outhful Criminals and What Makes Then

The cell-door in the police station was closed upon a thief who had given his age as seventeen years, and who looked even younger. His clothing and person were clean and his features were of ore about as full of meanness as they tan type indicating intelligence. The brutal hold. The Sun has been informed of a expression often noted in the features of law-breakers was lacking entirely in his. A Tribune reporter, who saw him locked up, noticed tears in the youth's t encampment of veterans at Trenan, blue eyes. The detective who had made Gil. Woodward, of the old B. cond Wis-consin regiment, was present, and had a Police Department and was familiar with ent all to immed. He was elected Con-ressman i om the La Crosse district ought not to be a thief," he said. "His ast fall, but the confounded soldiers for-father is dead, and be has a respectable. hard-working mother, to whom he might c a comfort instead of a curse. He has en on the Island twice already and ow he will go up for burglary."
"What kind of boys become burg the reporter asked.

"All kinds. Do good boys ever get to be thieves "Yes, when they fall in had company.
"What influence do you consider the est powerful in leading boys on to Ram! "Has not natural depravity much t with their fall?" "I do not believe that human de ravity is natural," the detective said It is unnatural. The lives of the wors riminals in the city prove as much Did it ever occur to you that there i minch less of what you call natural degravity in country places than in the city people get to be had because their sni oundings are had, because they cannot resist temptation, because their better in tinets are taken away by evil influence-This boy here lives in a tenement-hou e His mother is poor, and there is not auch pleasure for him in the house. Se runs about in the street. If he live o the country, as I did when I was a way from home. Here he associate with all kinds of boys, and there is not much wicked less which a New York 'gamin' does not know about. Every rrog-shop which bears the sign 'pool for drinks' is a training school for young hieves. The boys get heated with ber and are fascinated with the game. They must have money to enjoy the sport, anlrink leads them to steal it. egan stealing from his poor mother first. he would not have him punished. The e stele from his employer and was di arged. I caught him picking pocke ad sent him to the penitentiary. got out he roldse la money drawer is grocery. Last night be and his palroke the shutters off a cigar store are carried off a small amount of the stock. After he gets out of prison again La may become a more expert burglar, but is mother will die of a broken heart, A sob, within the cell, sounded like an expression of assent. The officer noticed and turning away from the door he added in a lower tone: "It is the fault of the parents sometimes. If his home life had been made a little better and steasanter, he might have been a steady oy. His mother was always compl in ng and fretting in the hous, before ne began to steal, and since then she as tried to shield him from the police, while she kept nagging him when they ere alone. Boys are growing up to be oler, honest men in the worst tenement houses in the city. You will find, as a rule, that they have been taught by their parents to expect punishment for evil doing and that they have amusement at ome."-N. Y. Tribune.

LIKE A BLOW IN THE BACK.

How it Feels to be Struck by Lightning -An Unpleasant Experience "Above the Henry M. Burt, the White Mountain editor, gives his experience with light-ning. Mr. Burt certainly had a narrow scape, He writes: "A little after six o'clock Saturday right I was in my office (in the old Summit House on Mount Washington), and had just given directions to Darby about making up a form, when all at once I feit a tremendous blow in the back. could not imagine at first what caused it. but instantly I saw a ball of fire as large as a man's head directly in front of me, not three feet off. It exploded with a tremendous noise, reemingly as loud as cannon, and then I knew what must ave happened. My left leg seemed to e completely paralyzed, and I fell to he floor. Three of my printers were n the room at the time, two sitting at he table near me and one standing up a little further off. The latter had the skin on one hand torn up, another was hit in the back, and the third escaped without injury. At first I felt as though a ball had gone through my body, and that all below had been shot away. I was startled and confounded, but did not lose consciousness. The young man who could get out of the office ran to the hotel, the Summit House, and told what had happened. Help came immediately, and I was removed to my room in the hotel and undressed. Dr. Strong, medical student of Harvard, took my case in charge, and treated me with great skill. In the course of two or three hours I could begin to move my eg a very little. This (Monday) morning I find myself quite comfortable though I cannot walk without a cane and my leg pains me considerably. I can assure you that it was a narrow escape from instant death, and for one I do not care to go through another experience like it. As the storms are all, or most of them below the summit, we have very little fear of being struck by light-ning. In fact, for 30 years no one has been hurt or had such a nufrow escape from death. It is an old saving that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, and I'm sure I do not care to have it. We were all the more surprised from the fact that until the bolt came in we had no idea of the presence of an electric atorm. It had begun to rain a little, but there had been no flashes of lightning. It was as startling as it would have been to get a clap of thunder out of a clear sky. You have probably heard of the impression of a tree being found upon the bodies of those killed by lightning. The same thing was noticed upon my back, and as here are no trees upon Mount Washington, it seems to me that the peculiar appearance must be the result of the blood ettling in the smaller veins,'

SELECTING. - Sir W. Harcourt, the English Home Secretary, enjoys the repstation of being personally the most objectionable man alive. It is told, objectionable man alive. It is told, appropos of this, that twelve gentlemen iad agreed to dine together, and, as they were in want of a much larger number, it was mutually arranged that each should select, unknown to the other, the most disagreeable acquaintance he had. When the selections came to be examined it was found that all twelve corresponded, and the individual on whom the suffrage fell was the Home Secretary.

STRIKING IT RICH.

REWARD RECEIVED BY A YOUNGSTER FOR BEFRIENDING AN OLD MAN.

How an Editor Became Part Owner in Valuable Silver Mine-Sticking to a Friend.

The editor of the Las Vegas Gazette n New Mexico, went West from Philadelphia when a boy. He "got stuck or mines," as the saying is, and falling in with an old proprietor they became firm friends. The youngster worked very hard, and divided his earnings with the old miner without question. He "grub staked" him for all his prospecting tours, and every now and then, when he would ome into civilization, furnished him the extra money he required for a spree and new clothes. For two long years, in season and out of season, this young boy stood by and helped the miner out of his scanty earnings.

"I met this old prospector," said he,
"who is a thoroughly educated man and a member of the Royal College of Min ng Engineers. I had faith in his honesty and ability, and for more than two years or mining interests have been insepaable. I have divided all I could care with the old man ever since we met, and, although it has been a long time oming, have never lost faith in his triking it fat some day. I suppose I have given him $1,500 to $2,000 in all, and would have continued to help him as long as he wanted it. It was mighty hard grubbing for both of us sometimes, ant we stuck to one another as though verything had been sunshine. A few weeks ago he struck it very rich, and the the honorable, honest man that he s, he at once transferred me one-half inrest in all his claims, seven in numer."

Was he bound to be so liberal?" "Not at all. Everything depended upon his sense of right. Legally, he as not bound to give me anything out he has more than justified my opinion of him as a man of honor and

"How rich are your claims?"
"The most valuable yet found about Silver City, the richest mining region of New Mexico. Last week I gathe ed up 165 pounds of the debris from the digsings, took it to Denver, and had it melted. They gave me a check fo $1,600 for the proceeds. This would make the ore yield $6,400 per ton. I think this is only a fair estimate of the "Will you hold and work them?" "I have not yet determined what I will do. I have just refused $750,000 for my interest in the property. But it is worth, and I can get, a much larger sum for it. I may sell, for I am in love with my profession, and if I made a half dozen millions I would still want to be connected with a newspaper.

LASHED TO THE SHROUDS.

Admirat Farragat's Position as He De-scribed it to William Page.

William Page, the artist who painted the famous portrait of Admiral Farragut in the rigging of the flag-ship, which was subsequently purchased by a committee of citizens for $10,000 and prezented to the Grand Dake Alexis, said to a reporter recently at his home near Richmond Valley, Staten Island:

"I was much interested in reading the discussion which arese some months ago concerning the statement of a nava officer that Admiral Farragut was not lashed or field to the rigging while di-recting the movements of the fleet during the engagement from his high position on the mast of the vessel. I can give the statements of the Admiral himself, and think they will settle the ques tion. I have often wanted to explain what Admiral Farragut said to me about this matter. When he was sitting for that painting I was living at Eagleswood, N. J., and he came regularly from New fork for the sittings. When they began, I asked him to describe his actual position during the conflict.

"He then explained how he had first seended the rigging on one side of the vessel to give orders to the men below. He found, however, that the smoke interfered with his view, and the officers on deck could not see his movements or motions correctly. While he was in the rigging he noticed a piece of shell strike a few feet above his head and cut away a portion of the maintop, beneath which be was standing, with his feet resting on the rope ladder. ing below, he noticed that if he should se wounded or killed, as he merely held on by his hands, he might roll down the shrouds overboard, and his body might not be recovered owing to the smoke and quick movements of the manœuvring fleet. As his son was on board, he desired to prevent such a result, so that on finding the smoke so thick as to intercept his view where he was he deseended to the deck and crossed to the opposite side, but on his journey across the deck he found a piece of rope, which was precisely what he wanted, and took it aloft with him, tying the knot him-self which fastened him to the rigging.

"I procured for him a piece of rope, to use in the posing for the painting, and the knot shown there was the one made by himself. Probably any sailor will recognize it as a nautical knot, or one likely to be made by a seafaring man, When I went to untie it, its formation puzzled me, and the Admiral himself and to undo it.

"When he was relating these details to me he did so without any mannerisms other than caudor and quiet modesty, giving the impression that he possessed a brave and subdued temperament. The Admiral was rather short in stature, but was a very rare exception to artists' subjects in that his figure was of the exact classic or Greek proportion called eight heads, meaning that his head was precisely one-eighth the length of the entire body."

There are two of those life-size portraits in existence. One is in the sourt of St. Petersburg, and the other is in the possession of Mrs. J. W. Watsen of New York city, a daughter of Mr. Page, and whose husband is Treas urer of the Central Railroad of New

OPIUM SMOKING .- The experience in San Francisco is that the opium smoking habit is confined almost exclusively to the Chinese and those exceptional persons of the white race who have fallen so low that a lower depth is impossible, and the stories that women of good breeding and innocent young girls are enticed into opium joints are denounced as fictions. For the greater security of the Chinese under American laws the Chinese Six Companies in San Francisco have placarded the Chinese quarter with a warning to the residents not to admit white men, women, or children into their houses for the purpose of smoking

SPANISH PROVERS : The man who stumbles twice on the same stone is a

HAD BEEN THERE.

It was on the elevated road the other morning. A man was seen to suddenly rise upward, look around on the seat, feel in all his pockets, and grow excited over the loss of semething or other. "Lost your wallet?" queried the man ext to him:

"Had your watch taken?"

"Lost a roll of bills, perhaps?" "It is my check book. I believe lieft it at home. Dear, how careless l

"It might be worse," said the other n a consoling tone,
"I don't see how it could," growled the ther, "My wife will sit down and figure up the stubs, and when I go home to dinner it'll take a full hour to make her believe that 'incidental' has any thing to do with household expenses." Wall Street News.

Advance Step in Dentistry. HAVANA, Cubs. The most popular dentist of this city, Dr. D. Francisco Garcia, member of the Royal University, states that in all cases of troublesome neuralgia, arising from the teeth, his patrons are recommended to use St. Jacobs Oil, and the most satisfactory cures have followed. It is a specific for toothache, earache, bodily pains, and proof against household accidents.

Eating fresh radishes and yellow turnips for American Triumph at Amsterdam. The Mason & Hamlin Organ and Piano Company have just received the ollowing cable dispatch from Mr. C. C. Bender, their agent in Holland, now representing them at the World's Exposition at Amsterdam : "Received Diploma of Honor, the very highest award." The Mason & Hamlin cabinet organs were placed in competition at this great exhibition with a large number from the leading makers of Europe and America, and this award s but a continuation of their unbroken eries of triumphs at all the great world's exhibitions for the last 16 Mason & Hamlin have now won the highest awards at Paris, 1867; Vienna, 1873; Santiago, 1875; Phila-delphia, 1876; Paris, 1878; Milav, 1881, and Amsterdam, 1883.—Boston

Neven propose to a girl in writing, It is "present company" that is "always accepted,"

Carbo-lines. He wins at last who builds his trust, In loving words and actions just. Who's head, who's walk, his very mien, Proclaim the use of Carboline.

Walking with your hands behind you if yo d yourself becoming bent forward. The best cure for diseases of the nerses and muscles, is Brown's Iron B. tters.

A cloth wrung out from cold water put above the deck at night for the sore throat. MARION, MAS .- Dr. N. S Ruggles says "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters as a valued tonic for euriching the 1 lo of an I removing all dyspeptic symptoms. It does not burt the teet a." Taking a map in the afternoon if you are going to be out late in the evening.

HUNTSVILLE, ALA. - Dr. J. T. Ridley says "Brown's Iron Bitters Is a good appetizer and merits attention from sufferers."

Cranberries for materia.

A sun bath for rheumatism.

A sun bath for rheumatism.

A sun bath for rheumatism.

It is and rheumatic diseases. Dr. Elmore is the first to diseaver a cure. He had ted thousands with his Rheumatine-Goutaline a d never lost a cas . It always cures, Taking cod liver oil in tomato catsup, if you ant to make it palatable.

Lanus' & children's boots & shoes cannot run ver if Lyon's Patent Heel Stiffeners are used

Clem broth for a weak stomach,

ON THERTY DAYS! TRIAL. The Vortraic Burr Co., Marshall Mich. will send Dr. Dye's Celebrated Electro Coltain Lights and Electric Appliances or rial for thirty days to men (young and 41) who are afficted with nervens delidty, lost vit dity and kindred troubles maranteeing speedy and complete restoration of health and manly vigor. Adiress as above. N. B.—No risk is incur ed, as thirty days' trial is allowed. Cranberry poultic for crysipelas.

Dr. C. W. Benson's Celery and Chamom Pills are prepared expressly to cure and will cure Headache of all kinds, Neuralgia, Nerousness and Dyspepsin. 70 cents. Hot flannel over the seat of neuralgic pain and renew frequently,

"My hands were covered with little dry wals. They have disappeared, and I'm bet-er than for 20 years, from using Dr. Benson's kin Care."—A. M. Noble, Selma, N. C. The croup-tippe when a child is likely to roubled in that way.

The increasing demand for this prepara-tion as a household remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia is sufficient proof of its efficacy. Buttermilk for therem oval of freckles, tan

Read This.

The Army and Navy Liniment takes the soreness out of spavin, ringbone, splint or curb, and arrests ther growth. Cures colle, scra'ches and other diseases. Good for man or beast. For sale by all druggrists.

Smuffing powdered borax up the nostrils for atarchal "cold in the head." FOR dyspeptia, indigestion, depression of spirits and general debility, in their various forms; also as a preventive against fever and ague and other intermittent fevers, the "Ferro-Phost-borate I Erizir of Calisaya" made by Caswell, H zar & Co., New York, and sold by all D u gist, is the best tonic; and for patients recovering from fever and other for patients recovering fr. m fever and other "ickness, it has no equal. Eating onions and horseradish to reiieve tropsical swellings,

Female M. D.'a

Are having quite a success, says a Mrs. Thuath. I have been practicing medicine for thirty years, and have had some very difficult cases. I know of one man who came from England. His was a severe case of kidney complaint. He was a great sufferer, and had almost given up hopes of finding relief. After he had used four bottles of the medicine I gave him he was relieved through the natural channel of a piece of oxolate of lime calculus fully as large as a hazel nut, of a very irregular shape, somewhat like a grain of corn when popped open. It was of a dark brown color. It passage was of course accompanied by very severe and cutting pains. I am pleased to say he is a well man now. A full account of the matter appeared in the "Banner of Light" at the time, and was much commented on by the medical fraternity.

much commented on by the medical fraternity.

Not long ago I had three or four cases of dropsy. One of them lived twenty miles from here. In these cases sometimes the persons swell to an enormous size.

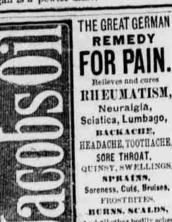

I could enumerate any number of persons who have despaired of getting well, and I have cured them, as I prescribe a never-failing medicine—one that I have used in all similar cases for six years, namely, Hunt's Remedy; and I give it to them in the original package, and after the most thorough and enhaustive provings I am fully convinced of its superior merits and specific action upon the diseases for which it is recommended. In short, Hunt's Remedy cures when everything else fails.

thing else faile.

Mas. Flavia A. Tunali, M. D.

Pequencek, Conn., May 31, 1883,

ONE of the best stops for a handorgan is a pewter dime.

THE GREAT GERMAN REMEDY FOR PAIN. RHEUMATISM Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, > by druggists everywhere. It imparts the most bril-liant and life-like tints, and SPRAINS. Sareness, Cuts, Bruises, the closest scrutiny cannot FROSTRITES. detect its use. All unsightly BURNS, SCALDS, Discolorations, Eruptions, Ring Marks under the eyes, Sallowness, Redness, Rough-ness, and the flush of fatigue FIFTY CENTS A BOTTLE sold by all Druggists and and excitement are at once The Charles A. Vogeler Co. dispelled by the Magnolia

Baim.
It is the one incomparable Cosmetic.

NATIONAL

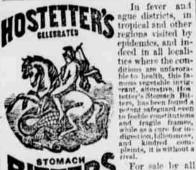

SURCICAL INSTITUTE

A SURE

For Fine Complexions,

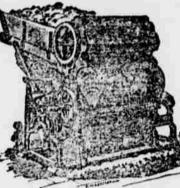

Positive relief and immuni-ty from complexional blem-ishes may be found in Hagan's Magnolia Balm. A delicate and harmless article. Sold

RECIPE

Bellimore, Md., C. S. A.

The Gullett Improved, Light Draft MAGNOLIA COTTON GIN Feeder and Condenser.

Better Workmanship and Material, and Give Better Satisfaction Than Any Other Gin on the Market.

The Magnolia Gra has come in competition wit mariy every seller to be in the instead, at it is Poirs and taken the house in the market, at it is Poirs and taken the house in rice samples, high mark an quadrant production. First, importa-direct conditions in the following STEM, importa-direct conditions. Every time actuall bested with a Stem source supposes.

PACTORY PRICES (rose on board exest) fagnola Gins, per Saw, $ 50. Fee ers, ,er Sa . $ Constantes, per Saw, $1.

GULLETT GIN MANUF'G CO. Postoffice, Amite, La.

DELEGRES R. G. is the quinkest, pleasantest, eithers and best remedy for kidney, fiver, stemach, bladder and blood deseases, and only real curative ever discovered for acute and chronic remembers. The manners and chromes in a constant of the constant of

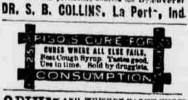

TO SPECULATORS. LINDBLOM & CO., N. G. MILLER & CO.,

GRAIN & PROVISION BROKERS. Members of all prominent Produce Exchanges in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Milwankes. We have exclusive private telegraph wire between Chi-cago and New York. Will execute orders on our judg-ment when requested, Seni for circulars containing particulars. ROBT, LINDBLUM & CO., Unicago.

Cured Painlessly.

In Three Weeks. ATLANYA GAMY, M. D., 14 RECAD STREET

Prices below all others. Agents wanted, The "New Household," a light running sewing machine of the highest excellence; long reputation among dealers for strength, durability, speed and utility. Buy direct from factory at factory prices. UtilityMeh. Co., 160 William, NY SHORTHAND If you wish to N. KIMBALL, 230 Flatbush Ave, Brooklyn, N.Y. END for Illustrated Catalogue Steam Engines, Sax Mills, Traction Engines, Standard implements, A. B. Farquhar, Pennsylvania Agricultural Works, York, Pa.

$66 A WEEK in your own town. Terms and A GENTS wanted for popular subscription books. Extra inducements. Souteastern Pub.Co. Atlanta, Ga.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth 65 for $20 from Address STER on 4 do., Portland, Me.
$72 A WEEK, $12 a day at home easily made. A GENTS WANTED for the Bost and Fastest relling Pictorial Books and Bibles. Prices reduced 33 per east. National Puntasiing Co., Atlanta, Ga.

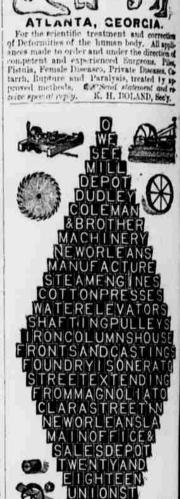

FREE Send to MOORE'S UNIVERSITY.
Atlanta, Ga.
For Illustrated Complex Welt year

Point the First. - Brown's IRON BITTERS is not an intoxicating compound. It is a tonic medicine, not a drink. It is a skillfully compound. reparation made to restore strength and health; not a beverage to be sold in bar-rooms and taverns. Diam server

Point the Second.—BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is free from everything injurious. The most delicate ladies and the most enfeebled infants may use it with perfect safety and with great advantage. While it is powerful in its remedial agency, it is gentle in its operation, restoring wasted strength and imparting robust health in the most efficient manner.

Point the Third.—BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is made by the Brown Chemical Company of Baltimore, a long-established house, whose reput tion is well-known to the business world and the general covernment. There is no risk in buying such a medicine.

Delicate and Feeble Ladies. Those languid, tiresume sensitions, causing yes feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant if that is taking from your system all its former class driving the blocm from your cheeks; that cont strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of th marvelous remody, Hop biliters, Irregularities as obstructions of your system are refered at once, wh the special cause of periodical pain are permaremoved. None receive so much benefit, and neses so profoundly grateful and show such as interest recommending Hop Bitters as women.

Feels Young Again. "My mother was afflicted a long time with neural and a dull, heavy, inactive condition of the wa system; headache, nervous prestration, and was and belpless. No physicians or medicines d d her any Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters such good effect that she seems and feels young apa although over seventy years old. We think there as other medicine fit to use in the family."-A Last w

It has cured me of several diseases, such as person ness, sickness at the stomach, monthly treeds, I have not seen a sick day in a year, since I too be Bitters. All my neighbors use them. MER. FANNIE GREEK.

$3,000 LOST, -- "A tour of Europe that cost me E.S. done me less good than one bottle of HepBitet "they also cured my wife of fifteen years' send weakness, sleeplessness and dyspepsis.

High Authority. Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic been r liquor, and could not be sold for use except to pres exirous of obtaining a medicinal bitters. GREEN B. RAUM, U. S. Com. Intel Se.

So. BLOOM SOUTHER, O., MIL Sine I have been suffering ten years, and in your Hop Bitters, and it done me more good feet the doctors. Baby Saved!

We are so thankful to say that our nursing is permanently cured of a dangerous and protection of the boxels by its situation and irregularity of the boxels by its Hop Bitters by its mother, which at the safe restored her to perfect health and strength-PABENIE, Rochester, N. V.

AGENTS WANTED EVERYWHEEL IN MICHIGAN PRINTED THE BASE PRINTED THE BASE WITH HEEL AN TOR complete in a service with HEEL an TOR complete in a service with HEEL and TOR s with HEEL an TOE comple the TWOMBLY KNITTING MA

Three Particular Points.